Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Wednesday 07 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Turning cloudy with a few outbreaks of rain possible.

This Evening and Tonight:
A dry evening with some clear spells. Turning cold, with a patchy frost developing at first. However, cloud amounts will increase from the west overnight with some patchy light rain developing in places. Driest in the east. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Thursday:
A cloudy morning with some patchy light rain possible, mainly in the west. Turning brighter for the afternoon, but a few showers may develop. Rather mild but breezy. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Mostly cloudy with patchy rain for Friday but easing overnight. Feeling colder on Saturday and Sunday with scattered showers, perhaps wintry over the higher ground.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.